Nel menu sulla sinistra cliccare su "Email Options" (opzioni per le email) e dal menù a discesa scegliere la voce "email redirects" (redirects per le email)

The screenshot displays the Monster Controls V7.0 user interface. On the left, a navigation menu is visible with the following items: Getting Started Guide, Email Options, Site Maintenance, webbased email maintenance, email redirects, simple autoresponders, vacation autoresponders, Script Archive, mail lists, Hosting Account History, majordomo lists, Webmaster Tools, subscribable mail lists, and Log Out. The 'Email Options' menu item is highlighted with a pink box, and a pink arrow points from it to the 'Email Options' section in the main content area. Within the 'Email Options' section, the 'email redirects' option is also highlighted with a pink box, and a pink arrow points from it to the 'email redirects' sub-section. The main content area features the Monster Controls logo at the top left, a navigation menu on the left, and a central content area with a news section titled 'Monstercontrols News: Important Notice - dp_tellafriend, cgiemail, insecure' and a 'Your Server Information' section. The 'Your Server Information' section displays the following details: Domain Name: [redacted], www.[redacted], Server Name: [redacted], Web Directory Path: /www/[redacted]/, and Current IP: 66.221.91.250. Below this is a 'Disk Usage' section showing 'Disk Space Used: 33.12 MB'.

La prima opzione permette di impostare il catch-all su un determinato indirizzo e-mail; se non si mette niente il catch-all di default è: nomedominio@nomedominio.tld
